

CFAR International Developmental Grant Application Letter of Intent (LOI)

CFAR International Developmental grants are intended to provide support for international junior investigators to carry out collaborative research that will provide the background for an application to NIH or another International Agency (USAID, UNAIDS, WHO, etc.) for HIV/AIDS funding and will provide support to foster interdisciplinary research among our international researchers and their institutions. CFAR International Developmental awards provide $25,000 of direct funding for one year.
